“Reaching People Where They Are”

Two years ago Pastor Mike of Bay City First Church of the Nazarene knew he wanted himself and his church members to reach out into the community to serve others. It wasn't long that he and his wife toured Good Samaritan Rescue Mission and it was clear immediately to Pastor Mike that “if church was going to start somewhere, it was going to start here.” Pastor Mike began as a chapel speaker for the guests at the Mission. “It’s important to reach people where they are. It fulfills me to be in this setting,” he says.

This year Pastor Mike added to his volunteering and is teaching some of the Life Skills classes that Mission guests are attending through the Employment Readiness program. “It’s fantastic to come here and disciple through these classes, preach at Thursday night chapel, and to be able to see them live it out when they come to church,” says Pastor Mike, shown here with Michael who is going through Life Skills classes and now attending Pastor Mike’s church!
